Frangestown Elementary School 9.6.19

NOTES FROM THE PRINCIPAL

We have completed our seventh day of school! It has been a wonderful beginning of the year, full of smiles, cooperation, and rekindling of friendships. I have enjoyed being in the classrooms, the lunchroom, and on the playground observing how our new structure is developing. Students and teachers are getting used to working in our multiage groups. Reports from teachers and students have been positive and we are looking forward to next week!

Friday morning we had a visit from Masters Paul and Amy Lamy, from Lamy's Blackbelt Academy. They have partnered with the PTO to offer a four week after-school martial arts program to FES students. Information is coming home today about how to sign up! Here is a link to their website to find out more about their company.

100% of the enrollment cost goes directly to FES! If you have any questions or need assistance with the enrollment fee, please let me know.

I hope you all have a great weekend! See you on Monday!

CORNUCOPIA CORNER

Tuesday was a gorgeous day! The Squirrels students explored the garden following a series of cards on a sensory walk and were surprised to find adorable little toads nestled atop the hyssop plant. We planted seedlings of spinach, bok choy, red and green lettuces, dill and cilantro. We harvested carrots, beets, kale, and lemon cucumber for a snack. We are looking forward to returning to explore the bugs in the garden habitat next week.

FES HANDBOOK

In an effort to save paper this year, we are distributing the Handbook digitally. All current FES families should have received a copy of this through an email, but we are attaching it here again just in case. Along with your first day packet of paperwork, you will be receiving a form that indicates you have read through the handbook and you will also indicate whether or not you agree to have your directory information shared per district policy JRA. If you have any questions - please feel free to reach out to us!
